

Post-Reading Activity Directions

Post-reading activities give students the opportunity to deepen, extend, and connect their understanding of the text. Often working together, students can reflect on, integrate, and share ideas about their knowledge and comprehension of the reading.

Design an innovative post-reading activity to use within your content area reading. Be sure to state the reading assignment that this activity would follow.

Some possible ideas include:

- Games, games, games
- Incorporating technology
- Multiple Intelligences

You are not limited to choosing only from the list above. Be creative, search for other ideas, and share what you have designed, found, or modified.

Use the binder checklist for specific grading expectations.

Post Reading Cover Page Name: Subject: Unit of Study: Text Source to be used (copy or link): Description of post reading activity: Rationale: Why did you choose this activity? How will it enhance the comprehension of text? What makes it engaging and important? Include all student sheets (clean copies & completed exemplars).
